Venice, Auguſt 28.

LEtters from Corfu tell us, that the Turks having Intelligence 8 or 10 Ships were coming from hence with Proviſions and Men for that Garriſon, reſolved to attack the Town in 2 Places before thoſe Succours ſhould arrive. Accordingly on the 1ſt Inſtant they attacked the Mole and the Town at the ſame Time, and were twice repulſed with great Loſs. On the 3d they renewed the Attack with greater Numbers, and after a gallant Reſiſtance made themſelves Maſters of the two Forts of Abraham and St. Salvadore; from which they fired on the Town, and on the 6th attacked the Paliſade of the Counterſcarp, but were repulſed with great Slaughter: And by Letters of the 15th, we learn they had gained no Ground ſince the 3d Inſtant. The ſame Letters add, That the fore-mentioned Convoy had entred the Channel of Corfu, and that General Schulenbourg has ſhewn very great Ability and Bravery in the Defence of the Town of Corfu. Yeſterday Count Coleredo, the Imperial Ambaſſadour, had Te Deum ſung for the Victory in Hungary, invited the Foreign Miniſters to dine with him, and all the Day cauſed Alms to be diſtributed to the Poor: At Night he gave a magnificent Serenade in his Garden, which was illuminated; and the Muſick continued till after Midnight for the Diverſion of the Masks, only the Ambaſſadour himſelf, the Pope's Nuncio, the Reſident of Malta, and the Britiſh Miniſter, were without Masks.

From on Board the Cumberland at Bornholm, Aug. 20. On the 5th Inſtant Sir John Norris ſailed from Copenhagen with all the Britiſh and Dutch Men of War and Trade through the Grounds; but it proving little Wind in the Evening, and the Current ſetting us back, the Fleet was obliged to anchor. The 6th in the Morning we weighed again, and plyed towards Stetin Point; but not ſeeing the Ruſſian or Daniſh Fleet come out, at 4 in the Afternoon we anchored again to wait for them. The 7th in the Morning, upon ſeeing them under Sail we weighed again, and kept plying with an eaſy Sail till they joyned us in the Evening, and then we all ſteered a proper Courſe for Bornholm, where we anchored the 9th at Night; and not having gained any late Intelligence of the Swedes from our Cruiſers, we detached ſix Men of War to the Coaſt of Carlſcroon, which returned on the 11th with an Account that they had ſeen the Swediſh Fleet with four Flags at Anchor in that Port; that they ſent out eight Ships (and more were following) upon ſight of ours, but that towards the Evening they returned to their Port. Upon this Intelligence that the Swedes were in Carlſcroon, the Merchant-Ships were immediately ſent away, under the Convoy of ſix Britiſh and ſix Dutch Men of War; and by the Favour of the Winds which have blown ſince, 'tis hoped they are got a good Way up the Baltick. On the 14th the Czar with four of his Ships ſailed for Stralſund, thence to go back to Copenhagen. On the 15th Sir John Norris had a Conference with the Daniſh Admiral Count Guldenlew.

Copenhagen, Sept. 5. The Czar having parted from the Fleet of the Northern Allies at Bornholm, went to Stralſund, where having made all neceſſary Diſpoſitions for the Tranſportation of his Troops from Mecklenbourg, he returned hither on the 1ſt Inſtant in the Evening, in order to haſten the Preparations for the intended Deſcent on Schonen. On the 3d arrived here by Sea a Daniſh Regiment of Foot from Rugen; three more Regiments are to come to the Camp, and then all the Daniſh Forces deſigned to be employed in the Deſcent will be compleat, to the number of 16 Regiments of Horſe and nine of Foot. The Muſcovite Troops from Mecklenbourg being expected daily, the Deſign on Schonen will be put in Execution by the End of this Month. The Duke of Wirtemberg, who has been for ſome time in the Service of his Daniſh Majeſty, being become Regent by the Death of his Brother, and having now a Revenue of 40000 Florins, will not ('tis ſaid) take on him any Command in the Expedition againſt Schonen, but will accept the Offers which have been newly made to him on the Part of the Emperor, to engage him to enter into the Imperial Service. Yeſterday arrived a Brigantine from the Fleet, which ſhe left at Anchor near Uſtedt, where it had been joyned by two Men of War that had been ſent to Conigsberg for Cordage and other Stores: The Maſter of the Brigantine reports, that the Fleet will take its Station in a little time between Falſter and Dornbuſch: It being ſo long ſince the Britiſh and Dutch Merchant-ſhips left the ſaid Fleet to proceed on their reſpective Voyages to the Ports of the Baltick, and the Wind having favoured them, 'tis not doubted they are all safe arrived. On the 23d came in a Poſt from Norway, with Letters adviſing that the Swedes have retired from Swinſund, after having cannonaded and ruined the Bridge there as much as they could: So that we are expecting to hear of the King of Sweden's Arrival in Schonen.

Berlin, Sept. 5. Letters of the 29th paſt from Zulichau, on the Frontiers of Poland, ſay, they could get no Intelligence of what was doing in the Congreſs at Nakell, all the Poſts being intercepted by the Poles left on thoſe Borders by Gniadowski, who was march'd to Nakell, and gave out he would proceed from thence to Graudenz and Dantzick, or Elbing. One of their Parties on the 26th fell into Tempel, a Pruſſian Village, about a Mile and a half from Meſeritz, committing ſeveral Diſorders, and offering to plunder the Inhabitants; but two Dragoons of Dorffling's Regiment, who were poſted there, having got the Peaſants together, attacked and diſpers'd them, and wounded two mortally. On the 3d Inſtant, Lieutenant General Seckendorff arrived here from Vienna in his way to Dantzick, having Orders from the King of Poland to join him as ſoon as poſſible: Yeſterday he went to wait on the King at Wuſterhauſen, having been particularly known to his Majeſty at the Attack of Stralſund, where he commanded. The Marriage between the Hereditary Prince of Wirtemberg, and the Princeſs Daughter to the Margravin Philippe, which has been negotiated here ſome time by Monſieur Schuncken, is look'd upon to be concluded. Part of the Muſcovite Troops in Mecklenbourg are already ſail'd for Copenhagen; and the reſt are buſy in their Imbarkation. P. S. Letters of the 27th paſt, juſt now arrived from Warſaw, ſay the Truce had been prolonged to the 8th Inſtant. The Palatinates of Lithuania had in the mean time formed ſeveral Camps on their Frontiers to be ready on all Occaſions; and the Saxon Garriſon of Cracow was marched to join their main Army at Colomb, except four Companies who were retired with Monſ. de la Motthe into the Caſtle. Major-General Meyer, the Daniſh Envoy, has been to Day at Wuſterhauſen to take Leave of the King, being order'd to aſſiſt at the Deſcent on Schonen.
